TP&L Defends Costs

Taylor Claims Heat Caused Summer Rise

Customers of Texas Power & Light Co. are paying only the electric rates approved by the Public Utility Commission in the company's recent rate case, and only the fuel charges calculated in accordance with Commission rules and monthly monitoring.

The fuel payment explanations were offered today by TP&L manager Jim Taylor, who said the higher bills of the summer can be attributed primarily to the summer's heat and the increased usage of electricity by TP&L customers.

Taylor noted that the consumer's total electric bill consists of two parts. One is the basic charge for electricity and the other is the fuel charge.

"TP&L has to burn natural gas, fuel oil or lignite coal to produce steam to generate electricity," Taylor explained. "The fuel cost on the bill is a reflection of the higher prices that we have been forced to pay for fuels to make the electricity that you use."

Since the price and amounts of these fuels vary from month to month, the TP&L manager pointed out, the Public Utility Commission of Texas has ordered TP&L to list fuel charges separately.

"The space identified 'fuel amt.' on your bill is the cost of the fuel used to produce the electricity that you have consumed," Taylor said.

He added that TP&L makes no profit from fuel charges, "but we must recover this substantial portion of the cost of producing electricity."

"The costs reflected in the customer's bill are the company's actual costs for fuel used in generation of electricity and amounted to over $186 million alone in 1976," Taylor explained. "To produce 3,000 kilowatt hours of electricity, we must burn about 5,000 pounds of lignite, 33,000 cubic feet of natural gas or 230 gallons of oil."

As regards the basic charge for electricity, Taylor noted that the Public Utility Commission granted the company an overall 11.8 percent increase in its rates—that is, its basic charge for electricity.

At the same time, the Commission instructed the company to establish "flat" rates for future residential electric charges.

While these "flat" rates resulted in an average increase of 2.52 percent, the rates for specific groups of residential customers ranged from an actual decrease for low users in the winter to an increase of as much as 11 percent for higher users in the summer.

In reference to fuel charges, Taylor said the company files a complete report of its fuel costs as well as its fuel charge calculations with the Public Utility Commission each month.

The Commission staff monitors those costs and charges.

TP&L files similar information monthly with the Plano City Council and other Councils in its service area.

Taylor said the Utility Commission requires that a current, complete and independent audit of fuel charges and revenue accompany each rate request which an electric utility company files.

The accounting firm of Haskins and Sells conducted such an audit of TP&L fuel charges and revenues prior to the company's recent rate case and this was submitted to and thoroughly examined by the Commission.

"The rate increase is a factor in the higher electric bills," Taylor summarized. "But the major reason is the unusually hot weather covering an extended period of time."

"TP&L customers have used more electricity and the company has had to utilize more costly fuel to meet those increased customer requirements."

Cancer Fund-Raiser

Bernice Stolle is ready for a big hand of bridge at the third annual bridge marathon beginning Sept. 26 at Holy Nativity Episcopal Church in Plano. Sponsored by the South Collin Unit of the American Cancer Society, the marathon will continue each fourth Monday through March at 7:30 p.m. at the church. Partnership play will be held with a $2.50 fee per person each month. Prizes will be awarded to the four highest scoring couples in March. Reservations should be made by noon Sept. 19 by calling Ms. Stolle at 423-0435 or Genevieve Lockley at 424-7383. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Chamber of Commerce Endorses PISD Issue

Passage of the $38,520,500 Plano Independent School District school bond election on October 1 has been urged by the Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber executive board recently voted unanimously to endorse the capital improvements program so that sufficient classroom space will be available for the ever-increasing enrollment.

"The past growth record of the school district is indicative that the 30,600 student enrollment projected for May 1982 will, in fact, become a reality," Chamber president Roland

Dickey said. "Such an enrollment increase will certainly require the eight new schools that this bond issue proposes."

Dickey noted that citizen approval of past school bond elections has provided classrooms where they were needed.

"The trust that the citizens have put in the School Board through the passage of previous bond issues has been upheld," Dickey said. "We believe that trust can, and should, still be put in the School Board to provide the necessary educational facilities."

House to Consider Minimum Wage Bill

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Forty years ago Franklin D. Roosevelt asked Congress to insure for all able-bodied men and women "a fair day's pay for a fair day's work."

Congress responded with the 1938

Fair Labor Standards Act, setting the nation's first minimum wage — the grand sum of 25 cents an hour.

Over the years, this has increased to the present $2.30 an hour.

Today, the House votes on a bill raising it to $2.65 next year, with subsequent annual increases automatically geared to average wages.

The House also was deciding how the minimum wage should apply to teenagers.

The House Education and Labor Committee, which reported the bill to the House, noted that the minimum wage never has caught up with the goal of the 1938 act — to keep working people from poverty.

At today's minimum a worker makes $4,784 a year. For the head of a family of four this is more than $1,000 below the poverty line.

The minimum would have to be $2.96 today just to match the poverty level. The House bill wouldn't bring the minimum above the poverty line until 1984.

Some 52 million Americans are covered by the minimum wage law. Only about 3 million of these make no more than the minimum.

Of that 3 million, two thirds are women and 17 per cent are black, although blacks are only 11 per cent of all workers.

The proposed figure of $2.65 next year is a compromise between $3 which the AFL-CIO wanted and $2.50 which President Carter wanted.

Dedication Of Stadium Scheduled

Plano's new $2.75 million football-soccer stadium will be officially dedicated in pre-game ceremonies at 7:30 p.m. on Friday at the Wildcats' District 13-AAAP opener against Lake Highlands.

Superintendent H. Wayne Hendrick will serve as master of ceremonies and Athletic Director John Clark will deliver a brief dedicatory address. The dedication prayer will be given by the Rev. Travis Berry, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

School Board president Rutledge Haggard will recognize school trustees and City Council members for the city and school cooperation in developing the 184-acre site for multi-purpose athletic and school use.

Also to be cited will be representatives of Schrickel, Rollins and Associates, designers of the artificial surfaced facility and Walker Construction Company, contractors for the project.

Collin County Increases Self-Owned Businesses

How strong an urge does the average Collin County resident have to become self-employed with a business of his own?

How many men and women, locally, have taken that step and are now their own bosses?

In this county, the latest figures indicate that the proportion of the working population that is self-employed has been on the rise since 1970.

Approximately 4,090 men and women in the area now derive their chief income from their own business, trade, profession or farm.

They are the storekeepers, the doctors, the farmers, the barbers, gas station operators and the like.

What this means, in terms of the total number of employed people in Collin County, is that close to 9.8 percent of them are self-employed.

The proportion is somewhat greater than in many parts of the country. The U.S. average is 8.6 percent.

Throughout the nation as a whole, in line with the overall increase in the population, there has been a growth in recent years in the number of non-farm businesses. Offsetting this rise, however, has been the decline in the number of farm operators.

The Bureau of Labor Statistics reports that there are now more than 7,800,000 people in the U.S. who are self-employed, compared with just 6,827,000 in 1970—an increase of 14 percent.

According to the Labor Department, embarking on such a course can be risky, rewarding or disastrous, depending upon a number of factors. The mortality rate among new businesses is very high.

However, the hazards involved do not seem to faze the would-be entrepreneurs. Each year an additional number take the plunge.

They put whatever savings they have and whatever money they can borrow to make the move to self-employment. Some succeed, some don't.

Many of those who have set out on their own in the last few years had been out of work for a long time and had become tired of waiting for jobs to materialize.

Whatever the reasons for entering self-employment, the fact remains that more and more Collin County residents are entering the field each year.

To Conserve Energy

Plano Family 'Weatherizes'

Special to the Star-Courier
BY JEAN CARLTON

"Many homeowners are asking questions about methods of curtailing their energy consumption," says Jean Carlton, County Extension Agent, Home Economics. "Just as a home must fit a family's needs and wants, so, too, must the method of weatherizing the home be an individual decision."

Judy and Jim Johnson, 2804 Aspen Court West, Plano, for example, have already implemented several energy saving techniques. The temperature setting of the air conditioner is maintained at 78-80 degrees; the children know to close the door immediately when entering or leaving the house; small kitchen appliances and the charcoal grill are used instead of the range or oven; caulking and weather-stripping have been installed to reduce infiltration; a circulating pump has been removed from the water heater; the radio and T.V. do not stay on all day; closet doors are closed so as not to be heated or cooled like the living spaces. These measures have enabled the Johnsons to have a low base utility bill, yet they were still seeking additional means of curtailing their energy consumption.

When a businessman gave the Johnsons an estimate in the thousands of dollars to increase the energy efficiency of their home, Judy began to research the alternatives and cost efficiency of these alternatives. She contacted several impartial sources, i.e. someone who was not selling a product, such as the local utility company and the County Extension Office. From these sources, she learned that there are several major areas one can enter when making energy efficiency improvements for existing homes: 1) EER of air conditioning unit; 2) glass area; 3) infiltration; 4) ceiling insulation; and, 5) wall insulation. In examining these areas, the Johnsons realized they should decide how much they could afford to spend, how long they would be living in this house, and how long it would take to recover their investment.

When buying an air conditioning unit today, it is recommended that the Energy Efficiency Rating (EER) be at least 8. A unit that was installed when a home was built may not have this high a rating. Whereas a homeowner may purchase a new unit with higher rating, or install a heat pump, the Johnsons did not feel it practical to install a new unit when their present one is operating.

In examining the glass area, the Johnsons have only two west windows and the south windows are covered by a porch. In that these areas receive the most ultraviolet rays, the Johnsons have "black out" curtains on the west windows. Possibilities for protecting the south windows include installing reflective film or planting some deciduous trees that would provide shade in the summer but allow the sun to shine in the winter due to foliage loss.

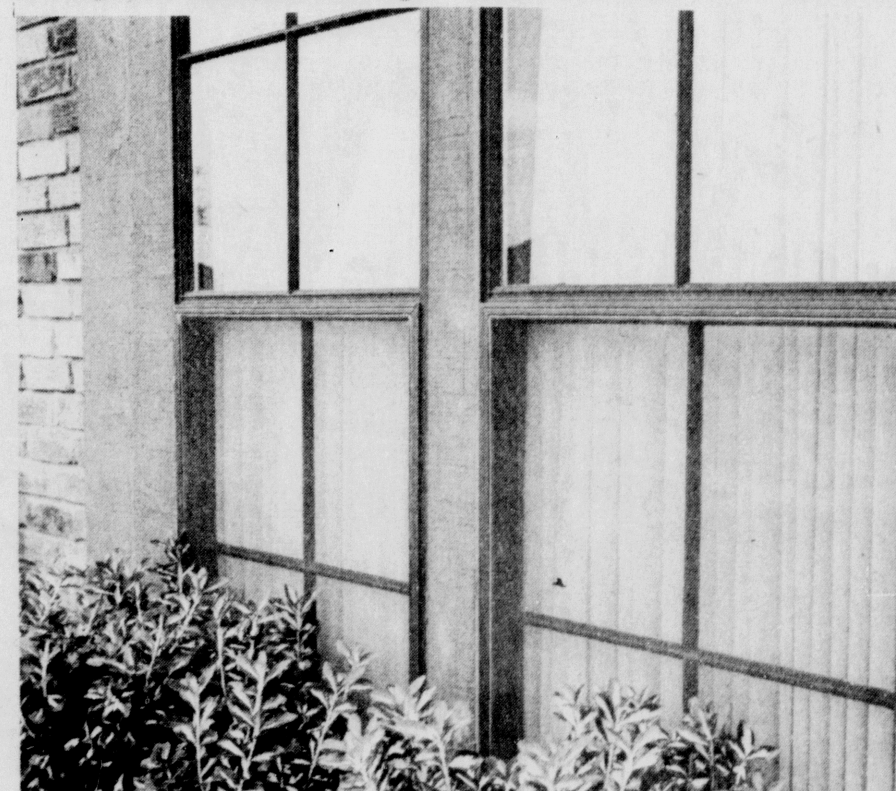

The Johnsons have already taken several measures to cut down on air infiltration, such as weatherstripping at doors and caulking around the windows. Additional measures could be taken to install a fireplace cover or fan to reduce heating and cooling loss.

Whereas the installation of additional insulation in the walls seemed somewhat impractical, the Johnsons began to explore their ceiling insulation needs. Judy found that she had from 6 to 8 inches of loosefill fiberglass in her attic. Loosefill fiberglass had been blown in over the stairway and had since settled to the bottom of the sloped ceiling area.

The Johnsons then began to ask some questions such as "How much insulation do we need? What kinds of insulation are available? Can insulation be added satisfactorily to our existing home?"

The amount of insulation needed is measured in terms of the R value, a number used to show the resistance insulation has to heat flowing through it. The higher the R value, the more resistant is the insulation. The current recommended amount of insulation for North Central Texas is R26 in the ceiling, R19 in the wall and R13 in the floor. Because the major heat loss and gain is in the attic, the Johnsons decided it would be more cost efficient to begin in this area.

Insulation should be bought or compared by the R value, rather than the thickness. The three most frequently used types of insulation are fiber glass, rock wool and cellulose. One inch of loosefill fiberglass has an approximate R value of 2.2. Knowing this, the Johnsons could figure that they had anywhere from R13 to R18 in their attic. This definitely fell short of the recommended R26.

In deciding the kind of insulation to choose, the Johnsons considered the advantages of each. Both fiberglass and rock wool are made from non-organic substances and have similar characteristics. Because they are non-organic, they will not burn, corrode, attract or deter rodents and vermin and have no odor. Fiberglass batts and blankets have an R value of 3.5 - 3.75 per inch while loosefill has an R value range of 2-3 per inch, depending on installed density.

Cellulose insulation is made of vegetable and wood fiber. The insulation may be made of a manufacturing wood residue, wastes or part consumer wastes. A cellulose fiber insulation should be treated with chemicals such as borax, dry boric acid and ammonium sulfate. These chemicals are water soluble and under high attic temperature may turn to a gaseous form and leave the cellulose insulation. When buying this type of material, consumers need to be sure it meets Federal Specification HH 1-515C. Bags and containers will be clearly labeled if they do. Boric acid in combination with ammonium sulfate or aluminum sulfate will deter fungal growth, rodent and vermin. The tufts or cellulose insulation, because of size, will fill small spaces more consistently than rock wool or glass fiber when blown in. An R value of about 3.6 per inch can be expected. The density changes the R value, therefore the density should be carefully controlled during installation.

Although these are the three most frequently used types of insulation, consumers may find some more readily available on the market than others. A decision must also be made as to whether to use the batts or loosefill.

Another factor to consider in installation of insulation is who is going to do it? Of course, it would be less expensive to install it yourself, although more time-consuming. If commercially installed, consumers need to be certain they are doing business with a reputable dealer.

After taking these factors into consideration, the Johnsons have decided to increase their attic insulation to the R-26 level. Judy will keep records of her energy consumption for the next year to ascertain any changes.

Gov. Won't Answer 'Caretaker' Charges

By ROLAND LINDSEY
UPI Capitol Reporter
AUSTIN, Tex. (UPI) — Gov. Dolph Briscoe has refused to respond to allegations by former Gov. Preston Smith that Briscoe is a caretaker governor. "I've always tried to follow a policy of conducting campaigns in a positive manner and not responding to political charges," said Briscoe Wednesday.

"It seems to me the people of this state expect those of us in office to act with decency, to act like ladies and gentlemen, and act with the same standards you find in other professions," Briscoe said. "I am very proud to take the record of this administration to the people of this state."

Smith Tuesday announced he would seek the Democratic nomination for governor and Attorney General John Hill will formally announce his candidacy at a news conference Monday.

However, Briscoe predicted he would win the Democratic nomination without a runoff.

Briscoe said he has not encountered any opposition among voters to the prospect of his election to a third term would give him 10 consecutive years as Texas chief executive.

WANTED: A VERDICT ON AMERICA'S CRIMINAL JUSTICE SYSTEM

Battered by rampant crime and injustice, our criminal justice system is on trial. Americans everywhere are demanding safe streets, certain justice, effective punishment. But is this "domestic tranquility" possible?

Let Courses by Newspaper help you judge. In its 15-part series "Crime and Justice in America," outstanding experts present arguments on such controversial issues as victimless crime, plea bargaining, white-collar crime, discretionary sentencing and punishment. And while you're weighing the evidence, you can earn valuable college credit.

Don't be guilty of neglecting these crucial issues. Plan to make Courses by Newspaper's "Crime and Justice" series a regular part of your fall line-up.

THE RADIO HOBBYIST

By Frederick O. Maia
KKB-0924 - WSUTT
Executive Director, American Radio Council

Just what is a ground plane antenna?

A ground plane antenna is a vertical antenna that uses an artificial ground usually consisting of 4 aluminum rods extending away from the center quarter-wave antenna element. This type of antenna radiates equally well in all directions and is called omnidirectional. The purpose of the ground plane elements (sometimes called radials) is that it lowers the angle of radiation and increases communications range. It is the most common base station CB antenna.

How does a "beam-type" antenna increase radiated power?

It really doesn't. What it does do is redistribute the available radiated radio frequency energy in a specific direction so that it effectively increases power. You can't get something for nothing! A beam antenna can easily redistribute your 4 watt output so that it has the same effect as a transmitter 5 times or more powerful. But the gain is only in a smaller concentrated area. The other directions have very little radio power reaching them. Antenna gain is calculated in decibels (db.) and every 3 db. of gain effectively doubles your output power. A good beam type antenna can have a gain of 9 db. or more. When shopping for this type of antenna, pay close attention to this gain factor in db. The best (and only legal way) for a CB'er to effectively increase output power is through the use of this type of antenna.

How high can I put my CB antenna?

It depends on the type of antenna. Vertical ground plane antennas can be installed at a height not to exceed 60 feet at its tallest point. Beam type antennas are limited to 20 feet maximum height above ground or 20 feet above an existing structure. This existing structure can not be a tower or mast unless it is licensed to another radio service. It is a little known fact that "hams" with amateur radio licenses are allowed to mount beam-type CB antennas on their "ham" tower but may not exceed the tower height or 60 feet above ground level.

The rules may change shortly, however, as the FCC in rewriting Part 95 which governs the Citizens Radio Service has just proposed new antenna height rules which will allow both vertical and directional (beam) antennas to be 30 feet above an existing structure or 60 feet above the ground. This is NOT in effect yet....it is just a proposal. While increasing antenna height will increase your signal level, doubling your height will not double your signal strength or communications range.

What kind of range can I expect from my CB radio?

Perhaps the most common CB question and a very difficult one to answer. Actually it could be anything from just a mile or so to thousands of miles. It depends on a lot of factors such as type, height and efficiency of your antenna, terrain, atmospheric conditions, etc. On the average, you can expect a reliable ground wave mobile to mobile communications range of 3 miles, base to mobile distance of up to 10 miles, and base to base using ground plane antennas of about 15 miles....with beam type antennas the distance could increase to 20 miles. Other stations on the same channel within your radio range could interfere with your signal and reduce distance accordingly. When ionospheric conditions are right and ionized layers form in the upper atmosphere at certain heights, radio signals can bounce off these affording radio contacts over thousands of miles. ("skip") It is illegal for CB'ers to communicate with stations more than 150 miles away since the Citizens Radio Service is intended for short range use.

How important is antenna location?

It all depends on how much of a "purist" you are. Objects near your fixed antenna (such as buildings, trees, etc.) can absorb energy that could be radiated. Furthermore, they can distort your antenna's radiation pattern. This means that RF energy may not reach areas that it might if the antenna was in the open. As a general rule, you should have nothing within a quarter wavelength (about ten feet) of your antenna and preferably more. This is particularly true of metal objects.

A mobile antenna's location is very important. It is best to locate the antenna in the center of the automobile roof so as to have as much car metal under it. The car becomes the ground plane and greatly affects the directional pattern of your signal. It also raises the antenna to the desirable highest location on the car.

Junior Players Casting 'Winnie'

A search for Winnie the Pooh, Tigger, Eeyore, and all the other characters from that favorite series is underway in Dallas.

The Junior Players Guild will be holding auditions at the Haymarket Theatre in the Olla Podrida Shopping Center on September 23 and 24. Auditions are open and there is no need for previous experience, just lots of enthusiasm and the ability to work hard.

On Friday, September 23, auditions will be from 4:45-6:45 (Ages 13-18), Saturday, September 24 from 2:30-4:00 (Ages 8-12), and 4:00-5:30 (Ages 13-18). Performances will be November 12, 13, 19, and 20.

This is the twenty-third season for the Junior Players Guild and they are planning four productions. Following the opening of The World of Winnie The Pooh, will be The Wooden Bird with the Dallas Ballet Theatre on February 5, Open A New Window and original script on March 4, 5, 11, and 12, and Merriment In Mime on April 29 featuring Gary Sloan and David Ellzey in a study of silence.

Plano Graduates 20 at UTD

More than one-third of Bachelor's Degree awards went to their recipients with honors in another record Summer Session Graduation Day, August 27, at The University of Texas at Dallas.

Fifty-six seniors received honors as 152 took their Bachelor's Degrees. Records for summer had been 12 and 117, respectively. The total degree awards reached 233, with 81 completing advanced study, including 7 Doctor of Philosophy graduates in Biology.

UT-Dallas passed the 1,000 level in total degrees, with 1,071 now on alumni listings. The Graduation day was held in two sessions, one at Jonsson Center, and one at Green Center.

Those graduating included 20 persons living in Plano. Their names, addresses and degrees granted are as follows:

B.A. - Elizabeth Ann Amiot, 2221 Westridge, English, Magna cum laude;

Karen S. Brickman, 3800 Wagonwheel, psychology, Summ cum laude; Robin D. Morris, 1108 Springbrook Circle, psychology, and Everett Henson, 2607 18th St., sociology, cum laude.

Three Performances Set For GCCA 1977 Season

The Garland Community Concert Association will sponsor three performances during the fall and spring with a possible fourth name entertainer to be named at a later date.

Planned are concerts by the popular vocal quartet, The Four Freshmen; the British piano duo of Rostal and Schaefer, and Peanuts Hucko and his Jazz Five.

The fourth artist, if the budget allows one, will probably be a well-known country artist, according to Don Paschal, president of the GCCA.

Dates for the concerts are: Rostal and Schaefer, Thursday, November 17; Peanuts Hucko and his Jazz Five, Monday, February 13, and The Four Freshmen, Sunday, March 12.

All performances will be held in the South Garland High School auditorium.

Memberships will sell for $12 per adult membership and $6 for student memberships with family memberships at $30.

The association will hold a membership renewal drive the week of September 19 and will follow with a new membership drive the week of September 26.

Memberships purchased for the Garland concerts will enable the holder to attend performances of other community concert associations that have reciprocal agreements.

Persons in neighboring communities are welcome to purchase memberships by contacting Paschal at 1914 Wiggs Way, Garland 75043 or by calling 271-6612.

ASTRO-GRAPH Bernice Bede Osol

For Friday, Sept. 16, 1977

Sept. 16, 1977

This coming year is likely to be a more active one than you've experienced for a long time. Unusual, albeit beneficial, situations will keep you on the go.

VIRGO (Aug. 23-Sept. 22)

You're better at mental gymnastics than physical efforts today. You can delegate the muscle power so that others won't be offended. Like to find out more of what lies ahead for you? Send for your copy of Astro-Graph Letter by mailing 50 cents for each and a long, self-addressed, stamped envelope to Astro-Graph, P.O. Box 489, Radio City Station, N.Y. 10019. Be sure to specify your birth sign.

LIBRA (Sept. 23-Oct. 23) The ability to acquire what you want and need is particularly strong today. If you use your ingenuity, the sky's the limit.

SCORPIO (Oct. 24-Nov. 22) The mantle of leadership falls on your shoulders today, irrespective of what you may think. It's evident you'll easily take charge.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 23-Dec. 21) From time to time you get intuitive flashes that are remarkably accurate. This is one of those days. Be prepared to follow hunches.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22-Jan. 19)

It is incumbent upon you in this period to involve yourself in situations where you make new acquaintances. They'll add spice to your life.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 20-Feb. 19) Vital goals will not elude you if you apply your native intelligence today. You are extremely capable if you concentrate on the situation at hand.

PISCES (Feb. 20-March 20) Revise plans affecting your future if you feel it is necessary. The main axiom of your success is to have faith in your ideas. They'll work out.

ARIES (March 21-April 19) Wishful thinkers usually bet on long shots and wind up on the short end. However, a calculated flyer is well worth your attention today.

TAURUS (April 20-May 20) Take everything in stride today. For some strange reason, things have a way of balancing out in your favor.

GEMINI (May 21-June 20) Like a true Gemini, you're much more adept today if you have several projects going. To top it off, you perform best under pressure.

CANCER (June 21-July 22) Don't be too surprised if you're much more popular today than you realize. You have many friends and they may all converge on you at once.

LEO (July 23-Aug. 22) Stick to your guns if there's something you want to bring to a conclusion today. There's more than one way to skin a cat. Your method will work.

POLLY'S POINTERS

Make purse from plastic tub

POLLY'S PROBLEM

DEAR POLLY — I have seen little girls' purses made from small margarine tubs. The ones I have seen were crocheted from the opening to form a bag and there was a drawstring to open and close them. Do you or any of the readers know how to make such a bag or do you have any other ideas for small things that could be crocheted for a church bazaar? I would appreciate any information. —B.W.

DEAR B.W. — I have never seen such a bag but I am sure some reader will be good enough to tell us how this is done. It seems it would be rather simple for anyone who knows how to crochet to improvise a pattern. I would punch holes close together around the top of the tub. An ice pick or heavy yarn needle should do it, and heating the instrument used should help. Next, single crochet in these holes and then continue in any desired stitch until the bag is the desired size leaving holes near the top for the drawstring to run through. This "string" could be made of a chain of single crochet or a twisted rope of the crochet thread. Good luck. —POLLY.

DEAR POLLY — My Pet Peeve concerns the fact that food products are not labeled with the time and method for cooking in a microwave oven. Although those of us lucky enough to have such ovens do have a special cookbook, it is often difficult to ascertain the length of time and way to prepare certain foods. Included in the list should be frozen and canned foods. This would take only a small space on the package label and would surely help a busy housewife. —DELIA.

DEAR POLLY — Wilma should put a few mothballs under her sofa cushions. It should rid the sofa of the cigarette odor in a few days. I have done this with many things. (Keep the balls out of the way of small children and pets.) —ABBIE.

DEAR POLLY — After we come home from a camping trip I roll the sleeping bags up and then put them in big garbage bags and tie them. They are then clean and ready for the next trip. —MRS. A.

DEAR POLLY — I have just finished preparing green beans for the freezer. I thought other readers might be interested in the way I worked out so as to save the time spent dipping beans out of the water. I bought one-half yard of nylon net which is double, cut it in two pieces to make two bags and sewed across the top to keep it together. I then doubled this and turned the edges over to make it stronger and stitched down the sides and across the bottom. I blanch beans one quart at a time and while one quart is cooling another is blanching and they can be poured from a bag into the freezer container. I also save my coffee cans and fill them with food in plastic bags that go in the freezer. —MRS. W.L.M.

Polly will send you one of her signed thank-you newspaper coupon clippers if she uses your favorite Pointer, Peeve or Problem in her column. Write POLLY'S POINTERS in care of this newspaper.

Raiders Zap L'Ville

Gaining their second win in as many games, the Bowman Middle School eighth grade Raiders rolled up 227 yards rushing Tuesday night and downed Lewisville Hedrick, 42-6.

Ken Massa opened the scoring first for the Raiders with a quarterback keeper around right end for 15 yards. Later in the first quarter, Bruce Smith gave the Raiders a 12-0 lead on a seven-yard burst over left tackle. Massa got the two-point conversion to give the Raiders a 14-0 lead in the first period.

That was all the scoring the Raiders got in the first half as Hedrick scored in the second quarter to narrow the score to 14-6 at the half.

Massa once again was in on the next Raider scoring effort with a 37-yard pass to Tony Turner who took it in for the score in the third quarter. Smith, who scored the Raiders second TD, scored again from the same side of the line from two yards out to increase the Raider lead to 30-6. Smith added the two-point conversion the same way as both the previous touchdowns.

Butch Fifield scored two Raider touchdowns in the final quarter. Fifield scored on a two-yard run and again on a fine 43-yard run around left end.

Jon Cox, Dennis Denson, John Hill, Turner and Fifield were credited with outstanding plays on defense.

On the opposite side of the coin, Cox, Hill, Smith, Fifield, Turner and Massa were cited as the outstanding Little league soccer and football are getting off to a big start in Plano. Everywhere you look these days, boys and girls are kicking soccer balls or catching footballs.

The Plano Daily Star-Courier will be publishing results of little league games - both soccer and football. Report forms to have little league games published are available at our office at 1301 19th St.

We ask that report forms for all little league football games (YMCA and PSA) be in our office no later than 1 p.m. on Mondays following games for publication in our Tuesday paper. Soccer game reports (PYSA, YMCA, PSA) must be in our office no later than 1 p.m. on Tuesdays following games for publication in Wednesday editions.

There are no exceptions to the deadlines and no games will be published more than seven days old.

We also ask that persons filling out the report forms designate which affiliation the team has (such as PSA, YMCA, or PYSA). It would also help to include the league (such as Boys Under 10 or Junior Bantam etc.)

We also request that first names be included.

Readers will find our annual Football

Contest in each Tuesday's edition of the Daily Star-Courier. We feel it is one of the best, most competitive contests operated by any newspaper (big or otherwise) in the Metroplex.

We award cash prizes each week totaling $50 ($25 first, $15 to second and $10 to third). To enter the contest, readers simply predict which teams will win their football game and the games are of interest to Plano football fans. Games are District 13-AAAA, Southwest Conference and NFL. (There are some exceptions sometimes.)

There are a couple of warnings to entrants. Mailed in entries must be in our office by 8 a.m. on Mondays following the contests. We urge early mailing of entries to beat any problem with mail service or delivery. We have had some entries arrive late to be graded although postmarked before the 3 p.m. Friday deadline.

Reasonable facsimiles are allowed, however, they must be reasonable enough to be checked with our master grading blank. In other words, the distance between the blocks to be blacked in must be the same as on the original entry blank or it can't be checked by our master blank. (Dig?)

Most facsimiles we have received have been okay, but some have proved a pain in hand checking. Also, copies by mechanical reproduction are not allowed (running them off on a copier.)

Armstrong Blanked, 32-0

Carrollton Newman Smith's eighth grade "A" team took advantage of several Armstrong mistakes on offense and turned them into a 32-0 win Tuesday over the Apaches.

Armstrong had two pass interceptions returned for touchdowns and another Newman Smith TD came after Apache punter Mike Ford was tackled inside the Armstrong 10-yard line.

The Apaches defense limited the Newman Smith team to only 95 total yards offense and only eight first downs. Only one touchdown was the result of a Newman Smith drive.

Mike McLersky was the outstanding offensive player with two pass receptions for 24 yards.

The entire defensive team of Armstrong was cited as having played an outstanding game, especially the secondary closing down the outside run.

"It is a disappointment for our young players to play as hard and well as they did and still get beaten by 32 points but the coaching staff felt that we were 100 percent improved as a team," said Coach David Dooley.

Allen Eyes Champions

BY KEYTH TAYLOR
Sports Writer

After being tabbed underdogs in their last two appearances, the Allen Eagles and the Princeton Panthers have been listed as an even matchup in their game Friday night in Princeton at 8 p.m.

Princeton has won three straight district titles and according to Eagle Coach John Pearce this year's Panthers will be as formidable as ever.

The Panthers strength lies in their running game where two returning letterman, seniors Daryl Dine and Mark Talent both stellar running backs provide the muscle. Talent was all-district in his junior year.

Last year, the Eagles handed Princeton one of their few losses, 27-8, in Coach Pearce's second year behind the helm at Allen. In his first year, the Panthers defeated Allen in the district championship game.

The Eagles have had very good performances from the defense. Allens offense is having its troubles however, but it doesn't lie in the passing department where quarterback Steve Marion has been more than adequate.

The Eagles running game is the problem. Youth and inexperience is the main factor. Also, neither of the running backs have ever carried the ball in varsity action.

"Our enthusiasm has overcome our inexperience the last two weeks. Now our main goal is to get the experience to go with the enthusiasm before district play which starts in two weeks," said Coach Pearce.

Allen will be going with the same starting lineup that they have gone with the past two weeks.

"The game will be a toss up," said Coach Pearce. "It's a cross county rivalry and both teams will be playing high above their potential. It's a brother against brother type game and anything can happen."

Signups Continue For PARD Fall Classes

All interested persons should register in person and as early as possible to assure getting the desired class.

For information, call the Parks and Recreation Department at 423-4795.

Vines Spikers Win Matches

Volleyball teams from Vines High School were victorious in games Monday.

The Vines Viking sophomore girls beat Dallas Christian High School in both "A" and "B" games. The Vines "A" team won in split sets 15-9 and 15-6 with Kelly Tormey leading the way.

In the "B" game, Plano lost the first set 7-15 but roared back to win the best of three games series 15-9 and 15-11. Kim Durrett was the outstanding player.

"In both matches we started out slow but managed to pull it together to win," Coach Jan Smith said. "All of the girls are making steady improvement."

Next game for the Vines spikers is Sept. 19 at Dallas Christian.

The freshmen girls won their best of three game series 15-4, 8-15 and 15-6 over Irving Nimitz. Standout players for Coach Ginger Anderson's squad were Michael Collins and Heather Herndon.

District Play Begins

Plano Hosts Lake Highlands In 13-AAAA Debut Friday

BY ED VOSS
Sports Editor

District 13-AAAA football action begins Friday for the Plano Senior High Wildcats against what could be a very surprising team - the Richardson Lake Highlands Wildcats.

It will be Wildcats against Wildcats at 8 p.m. at Plano's new unnamed football-soccer stadium in the North-west section of the city. Plano should be favored by virtue of a 1-1 non-district record against two good teams. However, Lake Highlands could prove a more dangerous team than a 0-2 record would indicate.

Both of Lake Highlands' losses have been to good football teams. Last week, Lake Highlands lost to Highland Park, 22-6 and in their season debut they lost 22-7 to Dallas White.

Plano's Coach Tommy Kimbrough remembers well the fear Lake Highlands put into the matchup a year ago. Plano won, barely, 3-0. What worries Coach Kimbrough is that the 1977 team is much better than the 1976 team.

"Lake Highlands was 0-2 when we played last year and they lost both of those games by more decisive scores than they lost by this year," Kimbrough said.

"They almost beat us last year."

"They are a stronger, better offensive team than last year. They have outstanding size. They are just a better team," Kimbrough added.

Kimbrough, the second year coach of the Wildcats, feels the key to Lake Highlands' offensive attack rests with four standout players. Jeff Leake is the quarterback of the LH Wildcats and he is rated by Coach Kimbrough as a "good passer."

The Lake Highlands' offense operates from the wing set.

"They are basically a power type team," Coach Kimbrough said. "They run a lot of play action passes also."

Key to the offense is 180 lb. running back Henry Crane.

"Crane is an outstanding back. He can breakaway but he is basically a power runner," Coach Kimbrough said.

Other notables on offense are tackle Don Lovett at 230 lb. and guard M. Lindberg at 200 lb.

Lake Highlands possesses the largest team that Plano has faced to date which includes big South Garland and a big Dallas Kimball squad.

"They have outstanding size on their offensive line," Coach Kimbrough said. "They are larger than either team we have played so far. Their weights listed in their program probably aren't right. We believe they are much heavier than they are listed."

The offensive line, as listed in the Lake Highlands program, averages 201 lb. But, remember that coaches have been known to pull a switcheroo in the programs on listings of sizes.

Defensively, Lake

Highlands operated from an Oklahoma 59 and multiple formations. Standouts on their defense are nose guard Reggie Stauffer at 200 lb. and tackle Herman Williams at 230 lb.

Plano is coming off a 17-14 win over Dallas Kimball in which Coach Kimbrough was pleased.

"We were real pleased. We felt like we improved a lot from the week before. We were pleased with all three phases of our game - offense, defense and kicking."

Kicking provided Plano with a 29-yard field goal to give them the ultimate winning edge. Plano scored their other two touchdowns from excellent field position given up by Kimball on fumbles in the first quarter.

"I'm glad we were able to take advantage of the opportunities. Opportunities can come at any time but last week they came early," Kimbrough said.

Plano quarterback John Gaddis was switched to running back early in the game to give Plano's offense a new wrinkle. Gaddis played halfback and was an all-district performer in both 1976 and 1975.

Coach Kimbrough has plans for using Gaddis in different backfield positions throughout the season.

"We plan on using John the same way we did last week. We will probably do similar things with him against Lake Highlands."

What are the advantages to having a quality running back like Gaddis splitting time at quarterback and running back?

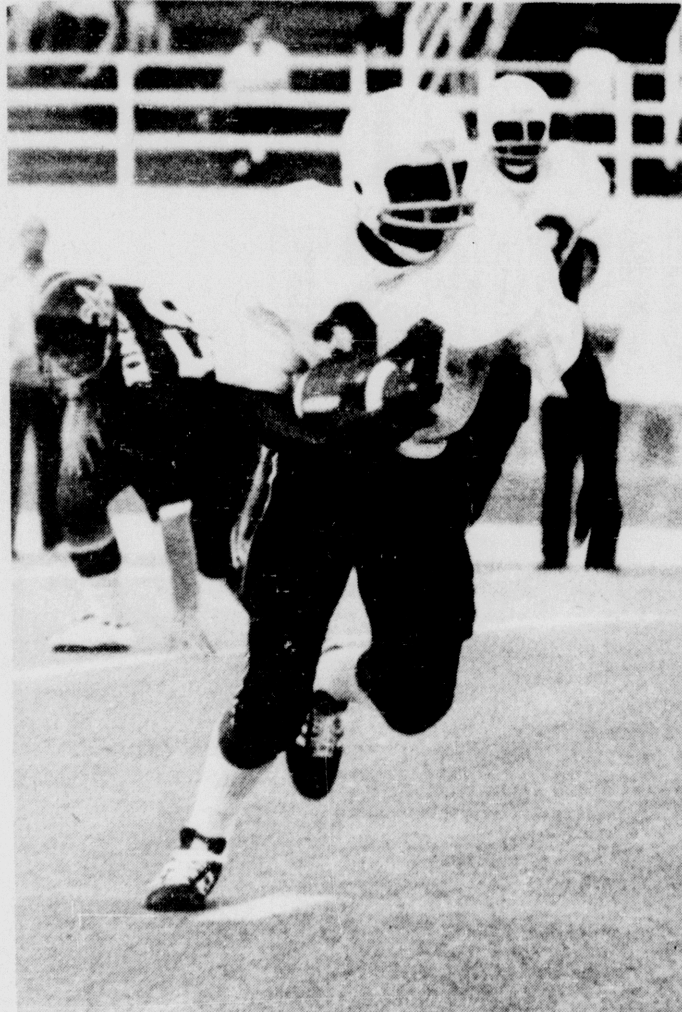

"We have two quarterbacks (the other is Steve Ulmer) and we feel both can do a good job for us at that position. John can also do a good job at running back. It gives us added depth at both positions and makes it hard for our opponents to prepare against us because John and Steve are two different types of quarterbacks."

Plano will go with the same starting lineup they used against Kimball with one exception - Mike Pedigo will start at strong side linebacker instead of Norris Smith.

Quarterback Shuffle

Plano fans will be seeing a lot of both John Gaddis, 28, and Steve Ulmer, 20, at the quarterback position for the Wildcats. Gaddis is slated for work at both quarterback and running back. When he isn't operating the team, Ulmer will man the controls. Coach Tommy Kimbrough feels that by using both players in the quarterback role, the team is benefiting from added depth and it causes wrinkles in the preparation by opposing teams. Both will probably see quarterback duty Friday when Plano hosts Lake Highlands in the 13-AAAA debut. (Staff Photos By Mike Newman).

Jeff Turner carried eight times for 58 yards for the Plano Wildcats in Friday's 17-14 win over Dallas Kimball. (Staff photo by Mike Newman).

Sherman Tops 'Cat Spikers

Plano Senior High's girls Varsity volleyball team was handed their second straight defeat Tuesday night against Sherman in District 13-

AAAA action.

Plano lost last week to Richardson Pearce and Sherman dropped Plano's record in the standings to 1-

2. Sherman's Bearcats topped Plano at the Senior High Activities Building in straight sets, 10-15 and 12-15. "We had trouble serving,"

Coach Ruth Stovall said. "We had trouble getting the ball in court. We didn't look bad, we looked improved over last week but we were caught off guard by some very surprising hits Sherman got."

Karen Brannon was cited by Coach Stovall for good passing against Sherman. "She is one of our most consistent passers," Coach Stovall said.

In Junior Varsity action, Plano won in split sets, 15-4, 12-15 and 15-13.

"The JV did real well. They started out quick and slowed down but picked up enough in the last game to win the match," Coach Stovall said.

Kathy Harrison was named the standout for the team with good hitting.

Plano's next volleyball games are against Paris, there, Thursday.

Pearce and Richardson Berkner currently lead the loop with unbeaten records. Pearce is 3-0 and Berkner is 2-0.

Wilson Edged

Wilson Middle School's eighth grade Rams received their first football defeat Tuesday night 14-12 against Denton to even their record at 1-1.

Wilson scored first on a 42-yard pass from Powell Cannon to David Kennedy. The conversion failed and the Rams led 6-0 at the half. Denton tied the game in the third quarter and finally went ahead in the fourth.

Bill Brooks caught a 37-yard scoring pass late in the fourth quarter and again the conversion failed and Wilson was defeated 14-12.

Wilson held Denton to negative yardage in the first half. On defense, standouts were Joey Shuford, Eddie Brown, and Isreal Gutierrez. Kennedy, Eddie Ross and the entire offensive line were listed as standouts on offense.

Haggard Wins, 6-Zip

Steve Okland scored late in the fourth quarter on a three-yard run to give the Haggard Middle School eighth grade a hard fought 6-0 victory over Denton Congress Tuesday night.

Oklands run was set up by Neal Marshall, who made an outstanding 14-yard run on an option.

"We did not play well on offense, we made too many mental errors. Our defense played good football, Denton never hurt us or had a scoring drive," said Eagle Coach Corky Criswell.

Robbie Shinn got an interception in the fourth quarter which proved to lead to the winning touchdown.

Volleyball Roundup

Haggard, Armstrong Split

In girls middle school volleyball, Haggard's eighth grade Blue team downed the Armstrong White 15-1 and 15-4, Tuesday.

The Red team of Haggard lost to the Armstrong White team 2-15, 15-1 and finally 14-16 in the last match.

Standouts for Haggard were, Kristl Knudsen, Jackie Burnett, Stephanie McClung and Pam Craig. For Armstrong, standouts were Mary Carlson.

Both Haggard and

Armstrong teams played exceptionally well," said Haggard Coach Florida Boyd.

Bowman's eighth grade Gold team beat Vivian Field 15-6, 10-15 and 15-5 in the final match to win the series two games to one. Standouts for the Gold team were Kathy Hann, Kim Evans, Paulinda Toler and Kimber Wallace.

The Blue team didn't do so well and lost their best of three series. Cindy Snider, Alexis Aikins and Dana England were standouts for the Raiders Blue team.

Haggard's seventh grade girls volleyball Red team won two straight matches against the Bowman Blue seventh grade 15-9 and 15-10. Bowmans Gold team came back and beat the Haggard Blue team 12-15, 15-9 and 15-11 in the finale. Standouts for Haggard were Sherry Robertson, Beth Floyd, Sherry Pearce and Charae Troopp. For Bowman, standouts were Areal Thomas, Roxanna Tanner and Sylvia Ramirez.

Armstrong's seventh grade coach Becky Austin's team took two games straight to down the Wilson Ram squads Tuesday night.

Aerobats Face Class III Meet

Selected members of the City of Plano "Aerobats" competitive gymnastics team will travel to Richardson Saturday, Sept. 17, to participate in a Class III Optional Dual Meet with the Southwest Gymnastics Club.

The meet, which is scheduled to begin at 10 a.m., will be held at the Southwest Gymnastics Club's gymnasium, 1400 North Bower Street in Richardson.

In speaking of the meet, "Aerobat" Head Coach Pam Cox said, "This is only one of several meets scheduled for the fall competitive gymnastics season. We are very excited about being able to participate against high caliber competition in this area."

Cox, along with assistant coaches John Eastham and Mark Jackson, are working with the "Aerobats" on a year-around basis.

Sponsored by the Parks and Recreation Department, the "Aerobats" consist of girls age 6 - 18 years who possess the necessary skills and desire for gymnastics competition. Workouts are conducted at Weatherford Elementary School, 2941 Mollimar.

For information concerning the City of Plano "Aerobats" call the Parks and Recreation Department at 423-4795.

Study Evaluates Plano-Schools

Residents Polled on Education

(Editor's Note: Earlier this summer, M-PF Research Inc. presented an analysis of Plano's retail trade potential to the Plano Chamber of Commerce. The study was commissioned by the chamber, with the financial assistance of the City of Plano and Plano Independent School District, in late 1976.

This is the 11th article in a series drawing from the 50-page report).

To evaluate Plano residents' attitudes and opinions in respect to the city's school district, several questions were devoted to soliciting comments regarding schools.

The primary purpose of these questions was to determine if Plano residents are satisfied with the education provided by the schools, and if they are unsatisfied, what improvement in the system they would suggest.

First, a difference exists in the use of schools by longterm and new residents. Fifty-nine percent of the longterm residents have children currently enrolled in Plano schools; 42 percent of the respondents moving to Plano within the past year have children in school.

As previously mentioned, a higher incidence of childless households exists among the new residents. This largely accounts for the difference between the two market segments.

With respect to age of the children, terms of school age, the children of all respondents are centered in the preschool or elementary (grades 1-5) age. The distribution of school ages between old and new residents does not differ significantly.

Over the past five years, the Plano Independent School District has achieved a reputation of being among the top five ranking school districts in the state of Texas. In terms of the level of satisfaction with the district among Plano residents, the system is meeting residents' expectations.

An overwhelming 90 percent of the respondents express satisfaction with the school system.

The perceived strengths of the PISD are numerous. The strong points receiving the highest frequency of mention are qualified teachers, innovative programs, overall good system and neighborhood schools.

Considering the two market segments collectively and singularly, the strongest assets to the school system are qualified teachers followed closely by innovative programs, including the open classroom concept, team teaching and others.

A probable reason for the quality of the teachers receiving more attention than any of the other strengths mentioned is that teachers, more than any other sector of the school system, have direct contact with the parents.

Parents evidently perceive the teachers as highly qualified and hold them in esteem. Beyond these two considerations the emphasis given to benefits of the school district vary between the two market segments.

New residents place greater emphasis on the neighborhood school policy (20 percent) as compared to only five percent of the longterm residents. The longterm resident gives higher value to the overall system being very good (28.6 percent).

Given the extremely high satisfaction level with the PISD, areas suggested for improvement are minimal. The overriding improvement suggested is returning to traditional teaching methods, mentioned frequently, however, by the longterm residents rather than new residents.

Second-ranking in improvements suggested is more emphasis given to the individual student. Although each of these comments are worthy of consideration, caution should be taken in attaching undue weight to these criticisms given the small base of respondents suggesting improvements. In summary, the reputation of the PISD serves not only as a high motivational factor of moving to the community, but the school district is realizing the demand placed upon it in providing a quality education.

Collins Holds Forum

United States Congressman Jim Collins will conduct his Tenth Annual Service Academies Forum on Saturday morning, September 17, at 9:00 a.m. All young men and women of the Third Congressional District interested in applying to the Service Academies are welcome to attend. The Forum will be held in B-142 of Richland College in Richardson. There will be a general discussion and films on Academy life followed by each Academy conducting its own individual information session.

The four year scholarships are valued at $100,000. To date, 85 young men and women have been nominated by Congressman Collins and admitted to the Service Academies. Last year, 16 were accepted from the Third District. All candidates are nominated strictly on a Merit basis.

Congressman Collins said, "I am proud of the fact that each year we have more qualified Cadets and Midshipmen chosen from the Third Congressional District. I am looking forward to meeting the many potential applicants for this year's nominations on Saturday."
